

Hello

Welcome. This is an interactive tool that essentially asks: “How Blip are you?” There are six scenarios, each of which you might face whilst working here. All you need to do is listen to the scenarios, and then choose the option that best captures how you’d respond.

Got it?

Great, let’s get started.

- B. Opt out. You’re busy. (0)
- C. Get involved to help organise the event and get loads of others to sign up too. (2)

Next one.

Someone in your team has come up with a killer idea for a new betting product. Do you say:

- A. “There’s no need to change what already works.” (0)

- B. “That’s brilliant. Let’s contact the product team and pitch them the idea.” (2)
C. “That could be interesting. I might mention it to my manager.” (1)

Scenario 5.

A project you’ve been working on has gone brilliantly. Do you:

- A Take a moment to say good job to everyone in the team before tackling the next problem. (2)
B. Congratulate everyone on the team and bask in the glory. (1)
C Take all the credit. You did most of the work. (0)

And finally...

The annual innovation competition is coming up. You have to form a multi-skilled team, come up with a bold idea and turn it into a working prototype in 24 hours. Do you:

- A: Go with the first decent idea your team comes up with. (1)
B: Wait around for someone to come up with a good idea. (0)
C: Brainstorm loads of ideas, decide on the best and turn it into a storming prototype. (2)

OK, let’s see the results.
